The Inside Scoop On Things to Do in Austin TX

Enjoy several of Austin's best kept secrets. From dining to events to legendary music venues, we've got the inside scoop on what to do.

- Stubb's Bar-B-Q is infamous for great food and live music. Pop open an ice cold beer, order the brisket topped with their world-famous barbeque sauce and enjoy live music from local musicians and well-known artists.
- Congress Bridge Bats has become the city's best-known tourist attraction. Each night from mid-March to November, 1.5 million bats emerge from under the Congress Bridge at dusk to blanket the sky as they head out to forage for food.
- After the event, keep walking south on Congress Avenue into the SoCo District to check out a few charming trailer eateries. Try the popular sweetberry cupcake at Hey Cupcake! and then venture to the neighborhood trailer The Mighty Cone for chili-dusted fries and a hot & crunchy avocado cone.
 - Hey Cupcake!: 1600 Block of S. Congress / open every day 11 to sold out
 - The Mighty Cone: corner of Congress and Monroe/open every day of the week but Monday, from 11am to 9pm
- Antone's Nightclub was the first club to open on 6th Street. Antone's has helped launch the careers of Stevie Ray Vaughan, Jimmie Vaughan, The Fabulous Thunderbirds, Los Lonely Boys, Ian Moore, and Bob Schneider, just to name a few.
- Continental Club is located on South Congress Avenue and is yet another premier live music venue in Austin. Enjoy a casual, laid-back atmosphere, affordable beverages and great sound.
