Today's Traveller Names Airport Hotel in Mumbai Best Business Hotel

Impressive Mumbai Courtyard Claims distinction among Indian Hospitality and Travel Industry

Mumbai, India – September 6, 2011 – Unsurpassed dedication to providing exceptional service and opulent accommodations has garnered recognition for one of the premier Mumbai domestic airport hotels with the announcement of Today's Traveller Awards for 2011.

The impressive Courtyard Mumbai International Airport Hotel was awarded Best Business Hotel in West India at a gala event held August 19, 2011 at Hotel Taj Palace in New Delhi. Quickly becoming well known for its comfort, impeccable service and world class amenities, the Courtyard by Marriott was recognized among outstanding hotels in the travel and tourism sector as part of the business and travel magazine's fifth annual award program.

“It gives me immense pleasure to receive this award on behalf of the associates of the hotel,” said Mrs. Sanne Emborg, hotel general manager, upon accepting the honor. “It is their dedication and great service which has brought such accolades to the hotel just a year after its launch. At Courtyard by Marriott, Mumbai International Airport we are constantly endeavoring to provide quality service amidst a world-class ambience to our customers.”

Incorporating the Today's Traveller awards in 2007, Gill India Communications Pvt. Ltd., publisher of the 14-year-old magazine, seeks to recognize exceptional achievers and contributors who have inspired all the players in the Indian travel and tourism industry so they can serve as examples for others.

Today's Traveller, a niche magazine with 1.5 million subscribers, enjoys high-end readership among key corporate and business decision makers and is the only travel magazine that showcases the achievements of Indian states and their future tourism projects. Awards achieved by the magazine include four PATA Gold Awards, the Sanghi Trophy for best travel writing and Marriott's Golden Circle Award.
