DID YOU KNOW? THE ESTATE

In the Middle Ages Packington was a Priory. At the reformation it passed to the Fisher Family with whom it stayed until 1729, when the wife of the 2nd Earl of Aylesford inherited the estate. It has remained in the family ever since. (The first Earl was raised to the peerage as Baron Guernsey in 1703 by Queen Anne, and created the Earl of Aylesford George I in 1714.)

THE LOCATION

The Marriott Forest Of Arden Hotel and Country Club, In Peaceful Warwickshire countryside, is well placed for access to Birmingham, Coventry and other major centres. Birmingham Airport, The National Exhibition Centre the M6 and M42 are all within a few miles.

Near the hotel several historical places are worth a visit. In Maxstoke, just to the north, there are the walls, gatehouse and ruins of a priory founded by Augustinian canons in 1336.
