University of Notre Dame is an independent, national Catholic college established in 1842 by Reverend Edward F. Sorin, C.S.C. Faculty members have won 42 fellowships within 11 years from the National Endowment for the Humanities. Students attending the school receive a superior education that instills a sense of community amongst the student body and faculty. About 80 percent of students participate in various forms of community service during their educational tenure at the university.

With many events happening at the University of Notre Dame, the school attracts thousands of visitors each year to its football games, public lectures, art events, Shakespeare festival, and much more. The school is also home to the Snite Museum of Art, which houses more than 24,000 works of art from around the world.
