30 YEARS OF SHERATON MALLORCA

How did it all begin 30 years ago?

Today's Sheraton Mallorca Arabella Golf Hotel is owned by the Munich-based Schörghuber Group, founded by Josef Schörghuber. The founder's son Stefan Schörghuber's penchant for the hotel industry was already evident in 1984. His vision was to bring the luxury hotels' clientele to the island, which was a daring endeavour at that time when the island was considered, especially in Germany, to be the perfect place for the "workers" to spend their summer holidays. On the site where the Sheraton Mallorca now stands, there used to be the Racket Club Hotel, a tennis hotel that was supposed to be modernized but was then demolished. The Arabella Golf Hotel was built, a luxurious 93-room building that was officially opened on 11th July 1992 after two years of construction. Today, the hotel is operated by Marriott International under the Sheraton brand.

30 YEARS OF SHERATON MALLORCA

Where else can you climb art?

It stretches from the basement up to the second floor - the mural by the famous Mallorcan painter José Manuel Menéndez Rojas. If you walk up the stairs from the ground floor to the first floor, you can admire a softly shaped female body wrapped in pale shades of blue and grey. Swallows soar upwards with the erotic beauty of height, only to meet a gentleman comfortably settled between the first and second floors. Once on the second floor, an intensely luminous orange sky awaits visitors. Whether the swallows are just bearers of passionate love greetings remains the secret of the two protagonists.

BAR EXPERIENCES

Our Lobby Bar awaits you today with three special cocktail creations: Mojito Navideño, Mule Granada and Creamy Almond. Each cocktail is accompanied by a small Spanish tapas dish.

30 YEARS OF SHERATON MALLORCA

Did you know that there are two mysterious wooden doors in the Sheraton Mallorca?

Nobody knows where they come from, how old they are exactly and who made them: We are talking about two beautiful wooden door leaves, obviously hand-carved from oak, depicting the birth and last supper of Jesus Christ. Attached to the left and right of the porch, the 13 gentlemen discreetly keep an eye on what is happening in the lobby, on arriving and departing guests, on golfers hurrying slightly late to tee off and on children standing before them in amazement. What do they think about today's travellers? Too fast, too hectic, too reckless? Or "Oh, how elegant"? We will never know, because the disciples made of wood remain silent.

30 YEARS OF SHERATON MALLORCA

150 palm trees and an enchanted garden with secret paths.

An unbelievable amount of 150 palm trees of all kinds, including the native dwarf palm, have found their permanent place on the 13,000 m2 grounds of the Sheraton Mallorca. Garden Manager Toni, together with his two other colleagues Ramon and Vicente, take care of the ubiquitous bougainvillea, hibiscuses, russelias, strelizias and jasmine bushes. "El Árbol del Amor", popularly known as the "love tree", captivates not only lovers with its annual splendour of blossoms. Mediterranean fruit varieties can be found on lemon, orange and tangerine trees. Cacti, also humourously called mother-in-law's seat in Spain, give the garden the final herbal touch. The garden is at its most beautiful in April and May, when it unfolds its full potential and treats the eyes and nose to a splendour of blossoms and Mediterranean fragrances.
