

The beloved King Cole mural is the work of renowned American muralist, Maxfield Parrish. The large mural was originally commissioned by Colonel John Jacob Astor IV for the bar of the St. Regis sister hotel, The Knickerbocker, located on Time Square. Legend has it that the martini was invented at the Knickerbocker under the watchful gaze of King Cole. In 1932, following the closing of the Knickerbocker, the King Cole mural was moved to the St. Regis New York and installed at its current home in the bar of the same name. The puckish mural has become a beloved fixture of the St. Regis and reputedly contains a secret that King Cole bartenders must be coaxed to reveal.

Dear Guest,

You may be surprised by the prices of the wines and spirits at the resort, however we would like to explain that there has been a substantial increase in import tax and other duties on alcohol in addition to the regular shipping and 21% government tax and service charge.

The St. Regis Bali Resort cares for the environment.
Biodegradable straws available upon request.

The Bloody Mary

In 1934, famed bartender Fernand Petiot at The St. Regis New York's legendary King Cole Bar perfected the recipe for a vodka and tomato juice cocktail he called The Bloody Mary. Deemed inappropriate for their elegant clientele, it was rechristened the red snapper. While the name may not have stood the test of time, the beloved Bloody Mary remains the signature cocktail of St. Regis and can still be enjoyed where it was originally concocted – under the watchful eye of the old King Cole, Maxfield Parrish's brilliant iconic mural. Vodka, tomato juice, lemon and variety of spices
