Courtyard Annapolis Hotel Invests $1 Million Into Accommodation Transformation

One of the premier Annapolis hotels is getting better as it finalizes the last stage of its renovation in July 2013, which includes improvements to guest rooms

Annapolis, MD – Guests who are searching for the most comfortable Annapolis accommodations will soon need to search no longer. The Courtyard Annapolis has announced that it plans to finalize its room renovations in July 2013. The final investment in the project is estimated to be $1 million.

The Annapolis hotel's new rooms are sure to please business and leisure travelers alike. Each of the 137 guest rooms and 12 suites plans to offer guests even more amenities that turn their rooms into a home away from home. Business travelers in particular will appreciate a few productivity-boosting features such as a spacious desk that provides ample room to work. Complimentary high-speed Internet access keeps guests connected to the home office or family and friends. Ergonomic chairs allow for serious brainstorming sessions without the strain on guests' bodies.

It's not all about work, though, and the improvements prove that the Courtyard is one of the most comfortable hotels in Annapolis, MD. Thicker mattresses help guests get to sleep faster, while cotton-rich linens are smooth and comfortable on guests' skin. The Annapolis accommodations also received cosmetic touches such as new carpets, draperies and wall vinyl. Glare-free lighting lets guests enjoy their everyday activities without straining their eyes, whether reading in a comfortable oversized chair with ottoman or readying for the day with a fresh cup of joe from the in-room coffeemaker. In-room irons, ironing boards, hairdryers, mini-refrigerators and granite countertops in the bathroom make guests feel welcomed and pampered.

The Courtyard Annapolis hotel also partnered with legendary stylist Paul Mitchell to provide guests with a refreshing line of products in the bathroom. Guests will wake up and revitalize their look with shampoo, conditioner and body wash.

"We're excited to offer these new services and amenities to our guests," said Shenae Moulden, general manager of the hotel. "We've always prided ourselves in putting our guests first, and with these new accommodation improvements, we're confident our guests are going to get enjoy themselves more than ever. Starting in July, our hotel experience is going to be unrivaled among Annapolis hotels."
