

detoxification and metabolic enhancement solutions

LPG endermologie® face and body therapy uses mechanical stimulation of your own biological reserves to activate metabolic processes. it is a 100% natural way of stimulating fibroblasts at the heart of the dermis to boost endogenous collagen, elastin and hyaluronic acid production, it also activates the body meridian points, improves connective tissue and lymphatic system, while simultaneously drains lactic acid. these treatments use highly advanced non-invasive medical device with FDA and CE approval, powered by endermologie® technique from LPG Cellu M6® generation 10.

LPG endermologie® face contour therapy face endermologie® with patented MPF innovation stimulates fibroblasts at the heart of the dermis to boost endogenous collagen, elastin and hyaluronic acid production.
