

A top-down view of various natural spa ingredients. In the upper left, a branch of an olive tree with green leaves rests on a light-colored, textured fabric. Below it, a small wooden bowl is filled with white, irregularly shaped stones. To the right of the bowl is a white ceramic bowl containing a golden-yellow liquid, likely olive oil. In the lower right, there are several sprigs of lavender with small purple flowers and more olive branches. The background is a light, textured fabric.
